April White ~ SGaana Jaad

Killer Whale Woman

Haida Nation—Raven Clan

From inspiration through conception of my art... its as if I am experiencing innate memories that connect me deeply to my cultural past. It's as if my brain is really doing the seeing, not my eyes. The feeling of this cerebral vision is supernatural... magical."

April White received her Bachelor of Science degree from UBC and worked as a geologist. With experience she became one with environment, as she translated what she saw in three dimensions into two through mapmaking. Transposing the natural world honed April's inherent artistic inclination. Entirely self-taught, she draws inspiration from her family. She is a direct descendant of the renowned Stastas Eagle Chief and Haida artist Charles Edenshaw and Haida weaver Isabella Edenshaw. Born on Haida Gwaii, April is of the Yahgu'jaanaas Raven Clan. She honours her heritage as she interprets the natural and mythological world in her art.

"The Haida have a saying, 'Life is like living on the edge of a knife. When you walk, watch your steps or you will fall off the edge of the earth.' Inherent in the creation of my art is the suspense and awareness of the knife's edge."

Photo-Offset Lithographs

A photo-mechanical offset lithograph is a reproduction of a finished painting that provides a faithful rendering of the original art. The artist participates closely with the master printer in this process to obtain a very satisfying and accurate reproduction. These limited editions are printed on the finest acid free 100% rag paper, then signed and numbered by the artist.

Giclée Prints

From an artist's point of view the Giclée process most faithfully reproduces that unique combination of transparent water-based pigment on watercolour paper. These Limited Edition prints are produced on 100% rag paper. Each edition is individually signed and numbered by the artist. These prints are sprayed with a UV inhibitor but are not waterproof and should thus be treated the same as original watercolour paintings.

Hand-Pulled Serigraphs

These limited editions are produced by means of Serigraphy on the finest acid free 100% rag paper. Each colour in a Serigraph represents a different screen through which the inks have been squeegeed sequentially to form the finished fine art graphic. Each print is hand-registered and hand-pulled in April White's studio, Wind Spirit Printmakers. They are then signed and numbered by the artist.

Hand-Pulled Serigraphs on Cedar Bark Paper

These limited editions are produced by means of Serigraphy on Cedar Bark Paper. This paper is handmade in April White's studio specifically for the overlying image. Each colour in a Serigraph represents a different screen through which the inks have been squeegeed sequentially to form the finished fine art graphic. Each print is hand-registered and hand-pulled in April's studio, Wind Spirit Printmakers. They are then signed and numbered by the artist.

2006 Limited Edition White Raven's Moonlit Flight

82% Pure wool, 18% Cotton (warp)
Edition 500 s/n Blanket size 64" x 80"

Price $395 CAD

Catalogue # WAJ•06101BF

In the beginning... water covered the earth, the sky was black, and Yaahl wore a cloak of white feathers. This White Raven, who alone of his kind survived the Great Flood, was not an ordinary being: he possessed supernatural powers and he brought the First People, the Haida, into this world. With the passage of time these people flourished, their society developed, powerful chiefs reigned, and all light including the Moon became the possession of the Great Sky Chief.

Learning who held this glorious treasure, and always looking for excitement, Raven devised a plan to steal the Moon for himself. Seeing no apparent way into the Sky Chief's Longhouse, but knowing that the Chief's Daughter appeared at the river every day, Raven transformed himself into a Spruce Needle and floated into her basket as she dipped it into the water. Being very thirsty she drank some of this water and carelessly swallowed the 'Needle'. It is through this, a magical conception, that she became pregnant and gave birth to Raven inside the Longhouse. His vision diminished by the pervasive darkness, the Chief did not see the resemblance of his 'First Grandson' to Raven and was an indulgent Grandfather. Through cajoling and the Chief's sentimentality Raven persuaded him to open the large Bentwood Box that Raven knew held the coveted luminosity, only to find another box. Raven continued to try his Tsinni's patience until successive boxes were opened for him, each each nested one inside another, and at last the glowing orb was released. Startled, the Chief could only watch helplessly as Raven took to flight with the Moon in his beak. Streams of light left visible traces in the air as he raced through flames, blue smoke, and soot, then out the Smoke Hole, singeing and sullyng his feathers to shiny black.

nested one inside another, and at last the glowing orb was released. Startled, the Chief could only watch helplessly as Raven took to flight with the Moon in his beak. Streams of light left visible traces in the air as he raced through flames, blue smoke, and soot, then out the Smoke Hole, singeing and sullyng his feathers to shiny black.

Flying toward the Nass River with the moon hidden under his wing, he tired and grew hungry. At the river, he came upon Eulachon Fishermen frustrated at trying to catch the fish in the dark. Raven called out, "If you will give me Eulachon, I will give you light to fish by." Not convinced, but agreeable, they watched in disbelief as Raven revealed the Moon, and they were able to fish by its light. Gratefully they gave Raven his fill of this delicacy night after night until he grew sated with the gorging. Now bored and the moon no longer serving an immediate purpose, Raven tossed it into the dark sky as he flew away. His sharing of the Lunar Light with the world was not given a thought as the Trickster soared to new adventure and disappeared in search of yet another caper.
